Redcliffe State High School
Student Representative Council

What is the Student Representative Council?
The SRC is the student voice of our school. Having students from all grades and form classes allows the management of the school to hear the opinions of the student body. The SRC also provides one of the many ways students can gain leadership skills by conducting community and school service work with their peers.

Who are members of the Student Representative Council?
Each form class is encouraged to provide at least one class member to represent them on the SRC. Some form classes have more than one representative. All students who are interested in leadership at Redcliffe State High School are encouraged to join the SRC. Within the SRC, SABER Cells are formed. Each SABER Cell is made up of students from each grade level with the same form class letter. For example, students in 8A, 9A, 10A, 11A and 12 A are in SABER Cell A. This allows the students to work with those outside their immediate peer group, which provides mentoring opportunities.

Why have a Student Representative Council?
The SRC provides a vehicle by which all students can be heard by the management of the school. The SRC is one of the key mechanisms by which students can successfully complete the SABER Leadership Program. Completion of the SABER Leadership Program is mandatory for all students wishing to nominate for formal leadership positions in Year 9 and Year 12. Further, the structure of the SABER Cells allows younger students to learn from older students, and for the older students to mentor those in junior grades.

When do the Student Representative Council meet?
The entire SRC meets at least 3 times per term. This is to plan events, receive leadership training, and celebrates success. Individual SABER Cells meet more regularly on a needs basis near the time of the events they are organising. Meetings are currently held on Mondays at second break, in G1 or the auditorium.
